10	Reading comprehension متن زیر را با دقت بخوانید و به سوالات پاسخ دهید. Thomas Edison (1847 – 1931) was an American inventor and businessman who developed many important inventions. Edison thought it was necessary to make the products he invented available at low cost to people across America, and this is what he did. His most important inventions include the electric light bulb, a basic video camera, the electric car and the electric power station. Thomas Edison was born in Milan, Ohio, on 11th February 1847, and he was the youngest of all .Although his parents and grandparents belonged to the middle class, the family was not wealthy. Edison only attended three months of formal schooling. He was extremely intelligent, but just didn't like to be told what to do. He had very little interest in school, but enjoyed studying in his own time and managed to educate himself by reading lots of books. As a teenager, he tried various jobs to make some money. He sold sweets, vegetables and newspapers. He had a talent for business, and he was successful at printing newspapers too. He spent the money he earned on a chemistry set. From a very early age, Edison loved to experiment, especially with chemicals. Edison was very passionate about his work: experimenting and inventing new things. Even though he was poor, he spent most of his time over the next few years working on new inventions. By 1877, he invented the phonograph – a simple device used to play and record music. The phonograph received a lot of interest, and people were really impressed with it. Although the device was quite simple to start with, it was an important first step in creating a music recorder. 38.Why did Edison only attend school for a short time? ..... 39.What did the general public think about the phonograph? ..... 40.The text above is part of: a: a biography text b: a news story c: a letter. d:a long story 41.He was good at printing newspapers. ( True-False) 42.He was born in 1847 in Italy. (True-False)
