The louvre museum is one of the largest and most important museums in the world. it is housed in the expansive louvre palace, situated at the heart of paris. The collection of the louvre museum was first established in the sixteenth century as the private collection of king francis I. one of the works of art he bought was the now famous mona lisa painting. the collection grew steadily thanks to donations and purchases by the kings. in ۱۷۹۳, during the french revolution, the louvre became a national art museum and the private collection opened to the public. The museum has a collection of over one million works of art, of which about ۳۵۰۰۰ are on display, spread out over three wings of the former palace. the museum has a diverse collection ranging from the antiquity up to the mid-nineteenth century. Some of the most famous works of art in the museum are the nike of samothrace, the dying slave by michelangelo and of course leonardo da vinchi's mona lisa.

F2: Long Comprehension (3 points)

In the first hour of a normal night's sleep, you go into a deep sleep. In fact, this is the time your sleep is deepest. Then later in the night, the mind goes into a paradoxical sleep which means "lighter sleep". It is during this type of sleep that you have your sweet dreams. In a normal night, most people go from deep sleep to paradoxical sleep about four or five times. Each period of deep sleep becomes less deep and shorter, and each period of paradoxical sleep becomes longer and lighter. Finally, you have your last period of paradoxical sleep and your last dream. Then you wake up and now you are awake. It is time to get up.

1. According to the passage, the first period of deep sleep is ..... the last one.

a. as long as      b. as short as      c. longer than      d. shorter than

2. You usually have your sweet dreams during the .....

a. first hour of sleep      b. final deep sleep
c. paradoxical sleep      d. second deep sleep

3. How are the first and the last paradoxical sleeps different?

4. How is your sleep in a normal night?
